- The supporting staff had an Orientation Programme on 'Motivational Skills and Public Relations' organized by FAEA, Patna Women's College on 12th and 13th March 2007. The Resource person was Mr. Raman Sindhi from Manas-Manthan.
- Some of them had attended computer literacy programme.

Q. 39. Healthy practices of the institution.

- General Staff Meeting, Departmental Staff Meetings, Orientation Programme for the teachers.
- A few Departments conduct post entrance tests, oral and written, to assess the aptitude of students.
- Students are encouraged to read novels and journals and are asked to write book reviews every fortnight.
- Leave notes are duly signed by the Heads of the Departments when students absent themselves.
- Regular circulars by the Principal to all the Departments give detailed information about the College functioning to the teachers and students, make the involvement and participation from all the stakeholders very constructive and effective.
- Visiting the bereaved family members of our staff and students.
- Teachers use learner-centred methods for teaching the students to develop a holistic view of their subjects and also channel their interests beyond their textbooks and syllabi. For this purpose workshops, project work, exhibitions, seminars, quizzes are organized in most of the Departments.

- Regular activities pertaining to Environment Protection are held. “No to Polythene bags” drive is on in the College.
- Terminal examinations are held, revision classes and tutorial classes are undertaken, assignments are given and extra attention is paid to slow learners in order to reinforce the academic inputs given in classes.
- Almost all Departments have a Departmental Library.
- In many Departments career counselling is given in addition to Campus Recruitment Programme of the University.
- Emphasis is laid on inculcation of moral values in students. For this purpose several strategies are employed, for example, discussion on social, economic and ethical issues, CD presentation of matters related to ethical and moral values, group activities on social issues such as human chain etc. are organized.
- Stress is laid on development of leadership qualities among students. Keeping this in mind duties and responsibilities are assigned to students in conducting several co-curricular and extra-curricular activities.
- In order to develop a cordial student-teacher relationship optimum interaction between students and teachers is encouraged. Most of the Departments have a Mentor System.
- A great deal of stress is given to co-curricular activities. A zero period is marked on Thursdays (11:55 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.) during which an activity is organized every week. Students are encouraged to take part in University, District, State and National Level Contests and various Youth Festivals in which they regularly give excellent performances.
- There is transparency in admissions. The Principal meets the parents at the time of admission. Candidates are interviewed at the time of entry.
- Orientation is given to students periodically about College rules, library rules, Terminal and Final Examination.
- Bulletin Board is a part of the Departmental Activity.
- First Aid facilities are available in the College.
- The outgoing batch, B.A. / B.Sc. / B.Com. and Vocationals III, of the College is given a farewell combined with a prayer service.
- The Department of Philosophy holds Yoga classes for the students. They have regular Theory and Demonstration classes.

- Many of the Departments promote a sharing attitude by weekly display on different themes on values.
- The Department of IMB has regular appraisal of teachers by regular feedback from students.
- There is a common suggestion box kept in a prominent place in the Library and some of the Departments also have one.
- The Department of Physics has Physics Teaching through low cost and no cost experiments.
- The Department of Education has daily assembly programmes conducted by the trainees. They also have 'each one teach one' social education, literacy programme.
