National Webinar on

Research Methodology and Application of GIS Tools in Geography

19th & 20th June, 2020

Systematic understanding of methodological aspects, interdisciplinary approaches of research and upcoming research techniques has become very important from the researcher's point of view. With the inclusion of GIS technologies, the information can be more vividly enumerated which facilitate better analysis and dissemination of the theme. A proper understanding of the recent technologies enables the researchers to overcome the knowledge gaps and to keep pace with the recent advancement in the concerned disciplines. Keeping in view the importance of new technologies in research methodology this national webinar therefore aims:

1. To offer a forum to exchange ideas regarding the various issues related with the focal theme.
2. To enhance knowledge among the participants in the field of GIS tools related to research.
3. To provide an overall guidance to faculty members, scholars and students to undertake quality research that is academically sound and socially relevant.
4. To provide guidance regarding pedagogical, ethical and technical aspects of publication.

Target Participants: Faculty Members, Research Scholars & PG students of Geography.

No Registration Fee is required

E-Certificates will be issued to the participants.
