

Report on Faculty Exchange Programme Lecture

As part of Faculty Exchange Programme between department of Political Science, Patna Women's College (Autonomous) and department of Political Science, Sophia Girls' College (Autonomous), Ajmer, two lectures were delivered on 10 July 2021 from 03:00 PM to 05:00 PM on the Zoom platform.

The first lecture titled 'Understanding Utilitarianism' was delivered by Dr. Miranda Das, who is an Assistant Professor at department of Political Science, Patna Women's College (Autonomous), and the second lecture titled 'Eco-feminism and Its Relevance in Contemporary Times' was delivered by Ms. Krishna Budgular, who is an Assistant Professor at department of Political Science, Sophia Girls' College (Autonomous). The lectures were attended by the faculty and B. A. and M. A. students from both the institutions.

Dr. Das's lecture elaborated on Jeremy Bentham's theory of utilitarianism, debates concerning it, and how it is comprehensive and deterministic in nature. While Ms. Budgular spoke on the theory of eco-feminism, its meaning and importance, especially, in the wider and emergent context of climate change.

Both lectures were followed by a lively discussion and questions and answers session between the speakers and the audience.