Topic – Believe in Yourself

&

It's Never too Late

The main theme of the video shown was that we should have faith in ourselves and proceed further in life whatever may come .It is easy to say but difficult to follow but the examples set by the two people in video , Colonel Harland Sanders and Konousuke Matsushita founder of KFC , owner of the company Panasonic , teach us that without hard work and perseverance we cannot succeed in life. The key to success in life is that we should never give up even after failing 1,009 times as the owner of KFC and success is not dependent on how educated you are or how much money you have it's just about believing in yourself ,if you are in pursuit of success,it's never too late 'just believe in yourself 'and wait for that one miracle .
